And, actually, it's a serious problem! 'Cause people every year become more and more lazy and not interested <sup>3</sup> at <sup>4</sup> culture, history.

[ In my opinion, it happens because of popularity <sup>4</sup> of internet, you know, "why I must go, spend <sup>5</sup> a lot of money, getting exhausted by sun or cold <sup>6</sup> to see sights on excursions if I can just, google <sup>7</sup> it?". On the other popular opinion is "that's too boring and useless <sup>8</sup>". ~~Some lie on beach instead of discover our world. And that's sad.~~

[ In the past people were interested in discovering <sup>9</sup> our world, becoming more educated, because they need it, need to be smart, dignified and they couldn't get this knowledge <sup>10</sup> by one minute. But <sup>11</sup> 21st century's people can easily get <sup>12</sup> any information, so they prefer lying on beach instead of discovering <sup>13</sup> the world. Progress is about coin with two sides.

[ As for me, I'm trying to make my travel <sup>14</sup> experience more useful and cultural- reach. My family rarely <sup>15</sup> visiting <sup>16</sup> seaside, but often go to excursions. We like walking, exploring <sup>17</sup> new country, meeting her representatives. We're interested in travelling in its <sup>18</sup> true meaning. Neither do our friends, that every year go to Turkey with words <sup>19</sup> "sea is so warm in Turkey". And this situation is widely-known, I think.

[ In conclusion, I just want to say that nowadays information is too easy <sup>20</sup> to get. That's good, 'cause it's convenient, but bad, 'cause making <sup>21</sup> us <sup>22</sup> lazy, so that's why travelling in <sup>23</sup> the past is so different.
