How important is it to practise a sport regularly when you are in your teens?
Is sport important for teenagers or not? rhetorical!

In my opinion, exercising is really significant ^{for} people's (especially young) lives. First of all, ~~it~~ it helps humans ^{to} staying healthy and fit, which is really important. The ^{had} better your health statement is, the better you feel and the better you live. For example, fitness is training stamina, that allows us not to restrict ourselves in activities, hobbies, and live a full life!

Secondly, exercising is ^{lex-gram.} assuring in social life and it's not only about being pretty and catching strangers' eyes ~~but~~ because of your good-looking, fit body. ^{lex.} It is popular to go to the group fitness (or yoga, etc) these days. Making friends becomes easier, when you ~~already~~ have at least one topic to discuss and a place to meet regularly.

Besides all of that, ~~there are~~ ^{is} another positive thing: doing sports regularly helps ~~to~~ evaluating (grow, if you will) as a person. It is hard to make yourself exercising for the first time, especially when the biggest part of people prefers spending free time lying on the bed and watching TV. But after few tries you start feeling yourself more refreshed and inspired to move forward. This trains in humans ^{diligence} hard working, which is extremely positive.

In conclusion, sport ~~is~~ and exercising ^{are} significant for teens, because it ^{helps} them to ^{become} the best ^{versions} ~~parts~~ of themselves.
