People always say that exercise and sports are important in daily life, but <sup>sp</sup> eventhough many people know this, not many people actually understand why sports are important.

As a person who plays sports, it's a pleasure for me to answer this question for you.

Today, many people think they are too old for sports, but human civilization found a way to solve this problem. They made a special type of exercise called fitness. Fitness is a type of exercise for grown ups or old people, that really benefits their health. In fitness, fat people lose weight, and the skinny ones gain muscles so that they can look better.

Enough about fitness, let's talk about sports. Sports make a big influence on a persons <sup>sp</sup> social life, <sup>sp</sup> ~~especially~~ <sup>136</sup> team sports. When you've got a team of 20 people, <sup>sp</sup> ~~you~~ <sup>sp</sup> get 20 best friends. While playing sports you have to communicate with more people, so you'll have a lot of friends.

Another example of importance of sports in our lives is <sup>sp</sup> simply enjoying the process. Imagine yourself getting home from your job or school ~~and just laying~~ <sup>when</sup> <sup>sp</sup> you have <sup>200</sup> a bad day. You can only lay on your bed and think about what a terrible day you've had, but if you play sports you can focus on your sport and just take a break from your <sup>sp</sup> em negative emotions.

So now do you understand how sports benefit our lives? <sup>log</sup> All I can say is play sports and enjoy your life.
