Should students have a long summer holiday or should terms be longer? I think it is very complicated question. With short holidays we have more hours in school and it is way how to learn more, but for someones holidays ~~is~~ leave periods for ~~some~~ learn something new or repeat some ~~times~~ lessons, so I think long holidays it is true way for better learning.

On holidays ~~we~~ we can choose any activities; do sports, prepare to exams or make new project. Holidays is chance to develop yourself. A lot of my friends have a really good results in the contests because they are preparing for it on holidays. If holidays will be longer, I am sure, they will be more successful.

I have one more important point. School is the place, where everyone can find a new friend, train some communication skills, looking for a future job. In my school we have a lot of events, where we can see how many jobs we can choose, where we can study for this job and where we can work, if we will choose this profession. It is difficult task for self-education.

So I think, that school is important, but ~~but~~ on holidays we ~~can~~ can do something and make a good result in future. Yes so I am sure, that the summer holidays must be longer.
